The Declaration of Business and Pecuniary Interests applies equally to staff and governors.

When completing the register, the following questions may be useful:

- Do you have, or have you recently (within the past two years) had, any material business or other financial relationships with a relevant party?
- Do you have, or have you recently had, any other (non-financial) relationships with a relevant party, the existence of which might suggest a real possibility of bias on your part?
- In considering whether to disclose an interest, you should also ask whether, in the opinion of a fair-minded and informed observer, the interests of close family members or friends would suggest a real possibility of bias.

Staff and governors must regard themselves as having a personal interest in any matter if that matter directly relates to, or impacts on, their interests or any decision they are asked to take that would affect the well-being or financial position of themselves, a relative or friend in relation to:

- any employment or business carried on by such persons
- any organisation in which such persons have a beneficial interest
- any organisation in which such persons hold a position of general management.

The following list illustrates specific situations where interests should be recorded:

- paid employment, office or profession
- paid employment, office or profession of relatives, other regular significant sources of payment from an organisation or investment which might be considered relevant
- directorships, whether paid or not, of any organisation
- membership of other public bodies (e.g. governing bodies of universities, colleges and schools), trusteeships (e.g. of museums, galleries and similar bodies), and acting as an office holder or trustee for pressure groups, trade unions and voluntary or not-for-profit organisations.

- relationships with other members of staff that you work with
