

What does it do?

A school council does a number of things:

- The school council meets - usually with a teacher present - to discuss and sort out problems. These may include school lunches, behaviour or ideas for fundraising events.
- Members of the school council will be responsible for carrying out the ideas that have been agreed, such as planning discos, writing newspaper articles, or meeting with catering staff.

What is a school council?

A school council is a group of students who are elected to represent the views of all pupils and to improve their school.

What jobs are there?

Each year, every class will normally elect 2 representatives to be members of the school council.

What makes a good one?

A good school council is one that represents the views of all students and gets things done.
